MOBILE OUTREACH RECOVERY ENGAGEMENT [MORE]

One of our primary driving principles as an organization is to push toward broadening the scope of what is societally accepted or defined as "recovery." At the LRCC, we always assert that a person is in recovery whenever they say they are. While this certainly will look different from person to person, the only "right path" for anyone is they path that they choose. Because of the ever-evolving nature of substance use in any form, it is clear that recovery services and support must also remain adaptable and innovative. With this is mind, we are thrilled to be working with our partners to pioneer Kentucky's very first mobile recovery units!

Made possible through grants attained alongside the Kentucky Harm Reduction Coalition and Voices of Hope in Lexington, the Mobile Outreach Recovery Engagement (MORE) initiative will seek to provide services to those who are not reached by traditional recovery support - because of current life circumstances or perhaps simply because the lack of comfortability that some individuals feel regarding an office or clinical treatment setting. Transportation and stigma are two of the primary barriers to receiving recovery support and care; the MORE unit will be taking services directly to where they are needed - meeting people where they are, both literally and figuratively.

Hours & locations determined by local needs, with regular hours each week (including evenings and weekends)

For people who...

- ...currently use drugs
- ...are experiencing houselessness or hunger
- ...engaging in sex work
- ...seeking nontraditional (non-abstinence-based) recovery
- ...residents in historically underserved neighborhoods
- ...those with transportation difficulties

DRUG COURT ALUMNI SUPPORT GROUP

If you have participated in or graduated from Drug Court, be sure to take advantage of this new opportunity to give and receive support with your fellow alumni! Started as an opportunity to give back to other Drug Court participants and serve the community through teaching and participating relevant classes, this weekly meeting primarily seeks to become a place to facilitate relationships of mutual support and fellowship among program alumni.

In-person meetings have already begun and virtual options (via Zoom) are also available. Please feel free to reach out with any questions or requests for further details: (502) 822-9570
